1.0. OBJECTIVE

Uncompromising Academic Integrity through Prevention of Plagiarism

Ref: University grants commission (Promotion of Academic Integrity and prevention of plagiarism in higher education institutions) regulations, 2018 – F.1-18/2010(CPP-II), dated 23rd July, 2018.

Ethics and honesty are the two most important elements of any academic activities, be it a teaching or a research. Teaching and associated research is a novel profession based on extremely high moral values. There cannot be any room for claiming the credit for the work a student or a research scholar has not undertaken. It has been noticed in many cases that some of the academicians knowingly or unknowingly publish or present other's work as their own. Such acts will affect healthy academic atmosphere in the institute which will also harm the reputation of the institute as well as the individual. It is therefore important for Kakatiya Institute of Technology and Science, Warangal (KITSW) to have a policy on anti-plagiarism to curb the menace of plagiarism.

2.0. PLAGIARISM

'Plagiarism' is illegal and very serious offence. Plagiarism is the unacknowledged use of another person's work as one's own work. Many people think of plagiarism as copying another's work or borrowing someone else's original ideas. But terms like "copying" and "borrowing" can disguise the seriousness of the offence.

According to the Merriam Webster online dictionary, to "plagiarize" means

- (a) to steal and pass off (the ideas or words of another) as one's own
- (b) use (another's production) without crediting the source
- (c) to commit literary theft
- (d) to present as new and original an idea or product derived from an existing source.

In other words plagiarism is an act of fraud. It involves both stealing some else's work and lying about it afterwards.

Anti-Plagiarism policy of KITSW embraces both Plagiarism and self-Plagiarism.

3.0. WHAT CONSTITUTES PLAGIARISM?

- (a) Copying and pasting portions of text from online journal articles or website.
- (b) Submitting a work / document that has been submitted previously.
- (c) Submitting a collaborative work without obtaining consent from the collaborator concerned.
- (d) Copying a section of book/article/report/monograph/dissertation/thesis without proper citation.
- (e) Buying, stealing or borrowing assignments, experiments/results.
- (f) Paraphrasing the work of others without due acknowledgements.
- (g) Using ideas of someone else without crediting the originator.
- (h) Changing the words but copying the sentence structure of the source without giving citations.
- (i) Failing to put a quotation in quotation marks.
- (j) Giving incorrect confirmation about source of quotation.
- (k) Putting one's name on another persons' project.
- (l) Copying, cutting and pasting from the internet or online source and submitting as one's own work without giving proper reference/citation.
- (m) Using another persons' photos, data, diagrams, tables and sounds without proper citation.
- (n) There are instances that the sources are cited but still considered plagiarized. For example:
 - i) The writer mentions the authors name for the source but neglects to include specific information on the location of the material referenced.
 - ii) The writer provides inaccurate information regarding the sources, making it impossible to find them.
 - iii) The writer properly cites the source but neglects to put in quotation marks, text that has been copied word-for-word are closest to it.
 - iv) The writer properly cites all the sources, paraphrasing and using quotation appropriately. The catch ? THE DOCUMENT CONTAINS ALMOST NO ORIGINAL WORK.

ATTENTION: Changing the words of an original source is not sufficient to prevent plagiarism. If you have retained the essential idea of original source and have not cited it, then no matter how drastically you may have altered its content or presentation, YOU HAVE STILL PLAGIARIZED. Most cases of plagiarism can be avoided by citing sources.

3.1. What is Citation?

A “Citation” is the way you tell your readers that certain material in your work came from another source. It also gives your readers the information necessary to find that source again including:

- (a) Information about author
- (b) The title of work
- (c) Date of publishing
- (d) Company / Journal / Conference that published the source work.

3.2. Why Should I Cite Sources?

Giving credit to the original author by citing sources is the only way to use others works without plagiarism. But there are number of other reasons to cite sources:

- (a) Citing sources shows the amount of research / literature review you have done.
- (b) Citations are extremely helpful to anyone who wants to find out more about your ideas and where they came from.
- (c) Not all sources are good or right. Your own ideas may often be more accurate or interesting than those of your sources.
- (d) Citing sources strengthens your work by lending outside support to your ideas.

3.3. Doesn't Citing Sources Make My Work Seem Less Original?

Not at all. On the contrary citing sources actually helps your reader distinguish your ideas from those of your sources. This will actually emphasize the originality of your work.

3.4. When Do I Need To Cite?

When you borrow words or ideas you need to acknowledge their source. The following situations almost always require citation.

- (a) whenever you use quotes.
- (b) whenever you paraphrase.

A paraphrase is restatement in your own words of someone else's ideas. So paraphrased passages still require citation because the ideas came from another source, even though you are putting them in your own words.

- (c) whenever you use an idea that someone else has already expressed.
- (d) whenever you make specific reference to the work of another.
- (e) whenever someone else's work has been critical in developing your own ideas.

3.5. Self-Plagiarism

Copying/reproducing, in part or whole one's own published work without giving proper reference of that work, and passing it off as a new production.

3.6. Golden Rule to Avoid the Plagiarism

- (a) Always give the due credit to the original author(s) and give the proper citation and proper reference.
- (b) Place the sentence in inverted commas, if you quote text verbatim.

4.0. INSTITUTIONAL MECHANISM AT KITSW

4.1. Awareness Programmes and Trainings

- (a) Dean R&D shall conduct sensitization seminars/ awareness programmes every semester on responsible conduct of research, project work, assignment, thesis, dissertation, promotion of academic integrity and ethics in education for students, faculty and other members of academic staff.
- (b) Dean R&D shall instruct students, faculty and staff about proper attribution, seeking permission of the author wherever necessary, acknowledgement of source compatible with the needs and specificities of disciplines and in accordance with rules and regulations governing the source.

4.2. System for Curbing Plagiarism

- (i) Dean R&D shall take all measures to facility in all the departments with appropriate software so as to ensure that all the documents / manuscripts / reports / thesis are free of plagiarism at the time of submission.
- (ii) Dean R&D shall ensure that the seminar reports / mini project reports / major project reports/ thesis submitted by students, researchers are checked for plagiarism, and arrange to issue a certificate from R&D Cell stating the levels of plagiarism.
- (iii) The Dean R&D shall ensure that the students are allowed to submit the seminar reports / mini project reports / major project reports / thesis only after obtaining a certificate from R&D Cell stating that the level of plagiarism is within the acceptable limits.
- (iv) The Dean R&D shall ensure that all the manuscripts prepared by students, researchers, staff and faculty of KITSW for the submission of conferences / journals are to be checked for “plagiarism “ and an undertaking from authors indicating that the work done is original and plagiarism free.
- (v) The Dean R&D shall create Institutional repository, on www.kitws.ac.in, which shall include seminar reports / mini project reports / dissertations / thesis / paper / publications and other in-house publications.
- (vi) The Dean R&D shall take all measures to submit to INFLIBNET, the soft copies of all M.Tech dissertations / thesis, a month after the award of the degrees for posting in the digital repository under the “Shodh Ganga E-Repository”.
- (vii) The Dean R&D shall ensure that the manuscripts prepared by the students / researchers / staff and faculty are not being submitted to predatory / dubious journals or conferences (public notice on academic integrity issued by the UGC dated June 14, 2019).

4.3. Plagiarism Detection Software at KITSW - Turnitin Software

- (a) The research work carried out by the student, faculty, researcher and staff of KITSW shall be based on original ideas, which shall include abstract, summary, hypothesis observations, results, conclusions and recommendations only and shall not have any similarities.

- (b) The changing faces of plagiarism have brought into light the need for higher education to use plagiarism detection software to tackle the problem. The KITSW has subscribed to Turnitin's Feedback Studio Higher Education Package License and the service includes Turnitin's Originality Check. The use of Turnitin marks a significant advancement in KITSW to detect plagiarism.
- (c) KITSW has user licenses for the use of the Turnitin software. Turnitin is a web-based plagiarism detection service which is used in many universities across many countries. Turnitin compares Mini/Major Project/dissertations and other works submitted by the students against its database and the content of other websites. It identifies a similarity index and produces an originality Report.
- (d) The use of Turnitin is not intended to be punitive; instead, it is intended to provide students and staff with an opportunity to identify and prevent instances of plagiarism in their work and take corrective measures. Thus, Turnitin is intended to uphold academic integrity and reputation of the institution and enhance originality and skills in academic writing.
- (e) Turnitin should be used in conjunction with other strategies to avoid cases of plagiarism. Some of the strategies include:
 - i) Citation and references are basis for an academic integrity. Students must be encouraged to use referencing software to manage references and create a bibliography.
 - ii) Discuss academic integrity with students from the beginning of the course.
 - iii) Use real cases of plagiarism from different disciplines for demonstration.
 - iv) Ask students to submit drafts: give feedback on referencing, citation, paraphrasing, etc.
- (f) Students' plagiarism is mainly associated with seminar / project presentations and report submissions and also with the assignments given as part of coursework or continuous assessment. Thus, the design of the assignment should encourage originality and minimize plagiarism. Some strategies to consider include:

- (i) Design assessment tasks that require higher-order thinking skills where the student needs to apply his/her knowledge to analyze, evaluate and create new ideas as compared to a task which requires regularization of ideas and facts.
- (ii) Create individualized and focused tasks which would be specific to a student and encourage oral presentation/discussion sessions to discourage plagiarism.
- (iii) Avoid re-using past assessment tasks that could tempt students to copy other's works.
- (iv) Communicate the assignment's purpose in details to students and make assessment criteria/ rubrics explicit and align them with the purpose.
- (v) Give students enough time to complete the assignment.

4.4. Adoption of Turnitin Software at KITSW

- (a) Licensed Turnitin software is made available in the institute for all the faculty, staff, research scholars as well as students and is to be utilized wherever required such as Seminar Reports / Mini project Reports / Major Project Reports / Research projects for B. Tech/M. Tech (M.Tech Seminar Reports , M.Tech Dissertations) /PhD Thesis / Publications/Patents.
- (b) Turnitin identifies 10 types of plagiarism, called the Plagiarism Spectrum (Turnitin, 2016), based on findings from a worldwide survey of nearly 900 secondary and higher education instructors:
 - i) Clone: submitting another's work, word for word, as one's work;
 - ii) Copy (Ctrl + C): Contains significant portions of text from a single source without alterations.
 - iii) Find-Replace: Changing key words and phrases but retaining the essential content of the source;
 - iv) Remix: Paraphrases from multiple sources to make it fit together.
 - v) Recycle: Borrows generously from the writer's previous work without citation;

- vi) Hybrid: Combines perfectly cited sources with copied passages without citation;
- vii) Mashup: Mixes copied material from multiple sources;
- viii) 404 Error: Includes citations to non-existent or inaccurate information about sources;
- ix) Aggregator: Includes proper citation to sources but the paper contains almost no original work;
- x) Re-Tweet: Includes proper citation, but relies too closely on the text's original wording and/or structure.
